- 4 PM (GMT+1) LONDON
- 5PM (GMT+2) ROME, PARIS

REGISTER FOR THE WEBINAR HERE

Online launch of World Resources Institute and Laudato Si' Research Institute report on how religious actors help shape strategies for peaceful resolutions to socio-environmental disputes in Mexico, Brazil and Colombia.

- Faith communities are important, yet often neglected, actors in socio-environmental disputes.
- As civil society actors, they deploy unique strategies of defence of human rights and territories by bringing a spiritual-symbolic dimension to their actions.
- Join us in this webinar which will include a presentation of the report findings, brief reflections from representatives of the faith, and ecology and human rights sectors.

- The webinar will have simultaneous translations between English, Spanish, and Portuguese.
